

Come out, come out.

Productivity Up 27%

Delta Flight Attendant productivity from 2001–2014, measured in number of passengers per Flight Attendant, increased by almost one third.

Pay Down by 10%

In real dollars (adjusted for inflation), Delta Flight Attendant's average pay declined in the same period.

Where's it hiding?

A very basic concept in economics says that when productivity rises, so should pay.

Being the most productive among our peers, Delta Flight Attendants are a critical part of the world's most profitable airline. We deserve our fair share of the success we work so hard to create. We don't deserve to go backwards.

This can be fixed. Come out and vote Yes. We'll negotiate a fair contract with Delta.
